What is Never Have I Ever?

"Never Have I Ever" is a game typically played in a group setting where players take turns making statements about things they have never done. If other players have done the action mentioned, they must respond accordingly, often by taking a sip of a drink or sharing a brief story related to the statement. The game can provide both entertainment and insight into the lives of friends and acquaintances, fostering a sense of intimacy and camaraderie.

Basic Rules

While the game can be played with minimal rules, here are some common guidelines to follow:
