- Section Your Hair: Divide your hair into four sections to make the application easier. Use clips to secure each section.

Perform a Strand Test

Before applying the relaxer to your entire head, perform a strand test to determine how your hair will react:

1. Take a small section of hair from the back of your head.
2. Apply a small amount of relaxer to the strand.
3. Follow the instructions to determine the processing time.
4. Rinse and assess the condition of the hair.

If the strand test reveals a satisfactory result and no adverse reactions, you can proceed with the full application.
