Examples of Pablo Neruda Poems

Here are some of Neruda's most celebrated poems, along with brief analyses and translations:

1. "Poema 20" (Poem 20)

This poem, from "Twenty Love Poems and a Song of Despair," reflects on lost love and the pain of separation. The famous line, "Puedo escribir los versos más tristes esta noche" ("I can write the saddest verses tonight"), captures the essence of longing and heartbreak.

Translation Excerpt:

"I can write the saddest verses tonight.
Write, for example, 'The night is starry
and the stars are blue and shiver in the distance.'"

2. "Si tú me olvidas" (If You Forget Me)

In this poem, Neruda explores the reciprocal nature of love and memory. The passionate declaration of love is intertwined with a warning about forgetting.

Translation Excerpt:

"If you forget me,
I want you to know
one thing.
You know how this is:
if I look at the crystal moon, at the red branch
of the slow autumn at my window,
if I touch near the fire
the impalpable ash
or the wrinkled body of the log,
everything carries me to you,
as if everything that exists,
aromas, light, metals,

were little boat
