The PSI national real estate exam is a standardized test administered by PSI Services LLC, a leading provider of professional licensing examinations. This exam is used by many states in the U.S. as part of their real estate licensing requirements. It evaluates candidates on their understanding of real estate laws, principles, practices, and ethical responsibilities. The exam typically consists of multiple-choice questions that are designed to measure both knowledge and application skills relevant to real estate transactions and regulations.

The PSI exam is divided into two main components: the national portion and the state-specific portion.
